VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR RESEARCH PROJECT

Laparoscopic Simulation Skills Program

We are seeking volunteers to participate in a research project to be held on-site at the Royal Adelaide Hospital investigating the use of a practical Simulated Laparoscopic Short Course for the acquisition of laparoscopic surgical skills.

Objectives:

- To determine the feasibility of this course as a self-directed learning program
- To determine the feasibility of delivering the program via a Mobile Simulation Unit

Eligibility Criteria:

- Current Junior Medical Doctor, SET or RANZCOG Trainee, Medical Student or IMG
- No previous attendance at a formal laparoscopic simulation skills training course
- Will be available at the RAH during the study period (4th – 29th April)

All time commitments are voluntary. Participation is separate from and in addition to your University or SET/RANZCOG requirements.
